

InfoCepts DataOps Automation

From Data Debt to Data Asset - Quality data provisioned in a timely and cost effective manner

An ever-expanding number of data sources, complex transformation logic, and changing business requirements make data acquisition, refinement, storage, and delivery, costly and slow. Automating data pipelines is the answer, which drives much-needed agility into making data useful to the business.

We offer a solution to improve the communication, integration, and automation of data flows in an organization while lowering the TCO. We assess the current state, develop a target state, and create a data pipeline automation infrastructure in your context—all while managing roles, changes, and interactions that bring the necessary agility.

InfoCepts DataOps Automation is a platform-agnostic solution to orchestrate, monitor, and manage data pipelines encapsulated with processes, tools and templates to empower consumption groups with continuous quality data.
